Yes....

The Author of this also wrote "La Peste" which is a classic that I have in the library at home.
Thank you very much for sending this.

Anyway-I have done about all that I can here. Slowly packing up and looking forward to some peace and quiet in [REDACTED] in a couple weeks.

It's been 10 months of fighting, trying to gain consensus and support. I did accomplish that, but there is nothing to show operationally for the effort. I am completely out of ideas and nothing more can really be done from my side. You can lead a horse to water, but you cannot make it drink.

Now with the elections so close, COVID is taking a back-seat, yet the disease is rearing it ugly head again and there are some frightening rumors about the virus coming out of Bulgaria at the moment.

keep safe there QQ

ALBERT CAMUS

He said, "In the midst of hate, I found there was, within me, an invincible love. In the midst of tears, I found there was, within me, an invincible smile. In the midst of chaos, I found there was, within me, an invincible calm. I realized, through it all, that in the midst of winter, I found there was, within me, an invincible summer. And that makes me happy. For it says that no matter how hard the world pushes against me, within me, there's something stronger—something better, pushing right back."
